Notice of Default and Opportunity to Cure

Dear Mr Bureaucratic Criminal,

On 1st January 2018 I served a Notice of Conditional Acceptance Royal Mail Tracking number AG460451025GB delivered 2nd January 2018. Said notice gave you reasonable notice and grace to locate and produce the requested information. You were granted 7 (seven) days to respond.

The deadline for production of said evidence was 8th January 2018.

In a lawful attempt to solve this matter I offer you the opportunity to cure this default by responding in substance, actually addressing the points raised in the original notice in Affidavit format sworn under oath or attestation, under penalty of perjury and upon your full commercial liability, and that the facts contained therein are true, correct, complete and not misleading within seven (7) days from Tuesday 9th, January, 2018.

I am a reasonable man and naturally distressed at the thought of causing someone injury, harm or loss, and I furthermore offer to discuss and negotiate with the injured party that you name in order to make amends for any such unlawful transgressions.

If you fail to respond in good faith and according to the above criterion, it will be deemed a tacit agreement by your acquiescence that no offence took place and that all parties to mean you and your principal or other parties abandon all demands upon me.

Sincerely without malice, ill will, vexation or frivolity
